

DDG (Agril. Engg.) Inaugurated the Winter School Training on Innovative Storage Solutions at ICAR-CIPHET Ludhiana

Ludhiana, November 18, 2022: The ICAR-Central Institute of Post-Harvest Engineering & Technology (CIPHET), Ludhiana has launched an ICAR-Sponsored Winter School Training programme on “Innovative Storage Solutions: The Best Way Forward for Reducing Post-Harvest Losses, and Doubling Farmers’ Income”, to be held during November 18 to December 8, 2022. Dr. Nachiket Kotwaliwale, Director, ICAR-CIPHET, also the Course Director of the training programme delivered the welcome address and briefed about the 21 days program. He also informed about the multi-disciplinary diversity among faculty as well as the participants. Dr. K. Narsaiah, ADG (process Engineering), ICAR emphasise the importance of storage of agricultural commodities. He also talked about some modernization being attempted in the area of food storage. Dr. SN Jha, DDG (Agricultural Engineering), ICAR, Chief Guest of the programme addressed the participants through online mode and briefed about the peculiar role of post-harvest processing and storage in Indian agriculture. Dr. Jha also highlighted the research and development requirements in storage. The programme was coordinated by Course Co- Coordinator Dr. Bhupendra M Ghodki and Dr. Th. Bidyalakshmi Devi, AS&EC Division. This programme is attended by 21 participants from different institutes of ICAR and SAUs from different parts of India. This program is also attended by all the scientists of ICAR-CIPHET, Ludhiana.

